So, Issue 11...

SYMBOLICALLY, ELEVEN REPRESENTS A
GATEWAY, TWO PILLARS, MARKING A PASSAGE INTO
ENLIGHTENMENT. WELL, WE ALL KNOW THAT OUR LEVEL OF ENLIGHTENMENT SHIMMERS LESS BRIGHTLY THAN THE FEW STARS VISIBLE IN THE VAST EMPTY SKY, THROUGH A HAZE OF HALOGEN AND SMOG.

SO WE WON'T ATTEMPT TO BE PRETENTIOUS ON THE MATTER AND CLAIM THAT ANYONE HAS ANY SIGNIFICANT INSIGHT
OF ANY KIND, BUT ONE CANNOT DENOUNCE WHAT ONE KNOWS
NOTHING ABOUT, AND MANY BEACONS OF LIGHT DO EXIST THROUGH
THE BLEAK DARKNESS. SO WE PRESENT A SCATTERED COLLAGE
OF THOUGHT CRIME AND POLITICAL DOUBLETHINK TO BOTH SCARE AND EMPOWER, AND HOPEFULLY SPARK A BEACON OF CURIOSITY WITHIN YOURSELF TOWARDS WHICH YOUR ANSWERS WILL FLOCK LIKE BUGS TO A PORCHLIGHT.

ACCEPT NOTHING, MERELY CONSIDER. JUDGE FALSENESS WITHIN YOURSELF, AND KNOW TRUTH TO BE ETERNAL.

AND

SEEK THE RABBITHOLES YOU CAN BEST FIT THROUGH.

Nov 10 - 14:44

There once was a boy named Stephanie. All the other boys made fun of him for having a girl's name. One day he came to school with a gun. He shot all his bullies a thousand times with a thousand bullets. All the teachers were having a nap at the time and didn't notice. When the police told the mommies and daddies their kids had been shot the mommies and daddies refused to believe that their sons had been bullies.

They decided Stephanie must be a horrible monster.

Stephanie felt no guilt.

Moving me with a sound. Opening me within a gesture. Drawing me down and in,
Showing me where it all began, Eleven.

Eleven has been and will be waiting, Defending his light, And wondering... Where the hell have I been?
Sleeping, lost, and numb. So glad that I have found you. I am wide awake and heading home.
Lead me through each gentle step by step. By inch by loaded memory 'till one and one are one, eleven,
So glow, child, glow I'm heading back home. Hold your light, Eleven.

Deep Integration refers to economic integration that goes well beyond removal of formal barriers to trade and includes various ways of reducing the international burden of differing national regulations, such as mutual recognition and harmonization. It also refers to the proposed plan to merge the U.S.A. with Canada and Mexico.

The North American Union is a proposed international government encompassing the nations of Canada, the United States, and Mexico.

It could be considered the North American analogue of the European Union.

The blueprint for this governing body was laid out in a 2005 report entitled "Building a North American Community" published by the Council on Foreign Relations (CFR), an American foreign policy think tank, with input from the Canadian Council of Chief Executives and the Consejo Mexicano de Asuntos Internacionales.

Under the structure of NAU, Canada's power would lie in its individual territories, with Ontario falling behind Mexico, Illinois and Pennsylvania, and British Columbia right behind Kentucky, Louisiana, and Alabama (California, Texas, New York, and Florida make up the top four, and four Canadian territories sit helplessly at the very bottom)

The United States of North America?

Hopefully Canada defends its North.

it starts, like most things, from a mix of frustration and necessity. but then, if you stay faithful and respectful, it blossoms into something much more-- a liberation of yourself from dehumanizing, plastic safeways and save-ons, and a liberation of perfectly good food from ~~the~~ the dumpsters that carry said food to landfills.

I AM A DUMPSTER DIVER.

dumpster divers are not: - crack heads - ~~the~~ thieves, moochers
- to be made fun of!

living in a system that gives you no choice but to support it ~~through even the smallest~~ if you want to live (paying rent, paying for food, ~~the~~ paying for clean water, etc.), is not synonymous with living freely, no matter what anyone says. and, shit, i could never afford to eat donuts (hundreds of them! thanks krispy kreme), raisin bread, hot cross buns, ~~bagels~~ bagels, and plenty more if i were ~~paying~~ paying for food. that's ~~what~~ easily the best part of diving-- i'm eating better, healthier, and more now than i ever did when i was buying groceries. go see what your local dumpsters are hiding!

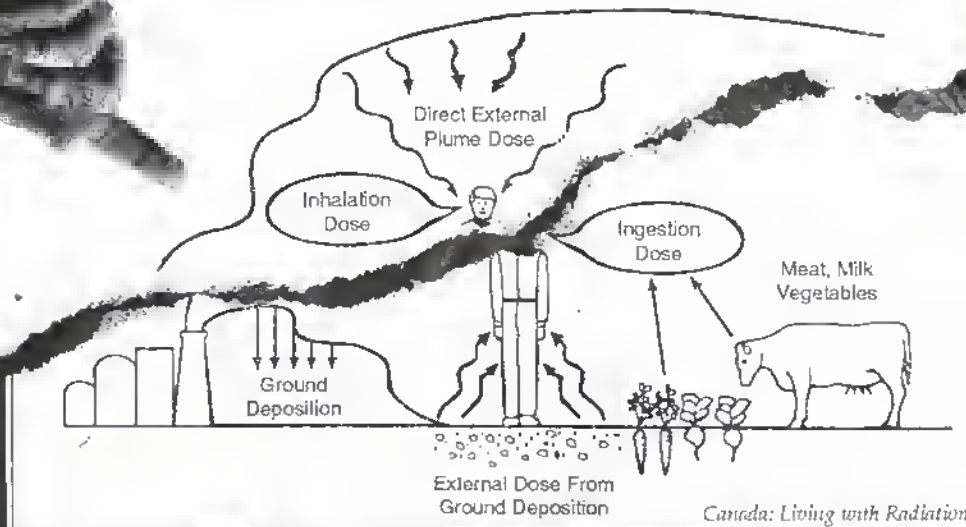

here's some places to check:

- grocery stores
- bakeries/bagel shops/donut shops
- pizza places
- food banks
- restaurants (Not very good)
- thrift stores, etc.

most of the time, what you want is still bagged, wrapped, and good to go. (save the food that's genetically engineered and pesticide ridden, but it's just as good as if you'd bought it, anyway). you'll probably find stuff unbagged, too, ^{so} just use common sense. if it looks clean and all (seriously check!), take it home, check again under a better light than just your flashlight, and clean it off before eating it. and remember - always leave the dumpster cleaner than how you found it. respect!

...iation can affect the taste of some foods, so the dose must be carefully controlled for each specific food. A wide variety of foods have been processed in this way. Nordion International Inc. in Canada has been engaged in research in this area. It was shown at an early date that potatoes after irradiation would keep much better than untreated potatoes. Studies of this method of food preservation have shown significant reduction of infectious agents on many kinds of meat, fish, vegetables and

RADIO FREQUENCY IDENTIFICATION (RFID) IS AN AUTOMATIC IDENTIFICATION METHOD, RELYING ON STORING AND REMOTELY RETRIEVING DATA USING DEVICES CALLED RFID TAGS OR TRANSPONDERS. AN RFID TAG IS A SMALL OBJECT THAT CAN BE ATTACHED TO OR INCORPORATED INTO A PRODUCT, ANIMAL, OR PERSON. RFID TAGS CONTAIN SILICON CHIPS AND ANTENNAS TO ENABLE THEM TO RECEIVE AND RESPOND TO RADIO FREQUENCY QUERIES FROM AN RFID TRANSDUCER. AN EARLY EXPERIMENT WITH RFID IMPLANTS WAS CONDUCTED BY BRITISH PROFESSOR OF CYBERNETICS KEVIN WARWICK, WHO IMPLANTED A CHIP IN HIS ARM IN 1998. NIGHT CLUBS IN BARCELONA, SPAIN AND IN ROTTERDAM, THE NETHERLANDS, USE AN IMPLANTABLE CHIP TO IDENTIFY THEIR VIP CUSTOMERS, WHO IN TURN USE IT TO PAY FOR DRINKS. RFID PASSPORTS WILL START TO BE ISSUED IN MASS DISTRIBUTION IN OCTOBER 2006. IN NOVEMBER 2005, THE STATE DEPARTMENT STATED THAT AS OF OCTOBER 2006 ALL NEW US PASSPORTS WILL CONTAIN RFID CHIPS WITH SOME SECURITY FEATURES.

Theoretical evidence is mounting to support the existence of the multiverse, in which entire universes continually sprout or "bud" off other universes. If true, it would unify two of the great religious mythologies, Genesis and Nirvana. Genesis would take place continually within the fabric of timeless Nirvana.

CAN HEMP SAVE US FROM GLOBAL WARMING?

"IF ALL FOSSIL FUELS AND THEIR DERIVATIVES, AS WELL AS TREES FOR PAPER AND CONSTRUCTION, WERE BANNED IN ORDER TO SAVE THE PLANET, REVERSE THE GREENHOUSE EFFECT AND STOP DEFORESTATION, THEN THERE IS ONLY ONE KNOWN ANNUALLY RENEWABLE NATURAL RESOURCE THAT IS CAPABLE OF PROVIDING THE OVERALL MAJORITY OF THE WORLD'S TRANSPORTATION, INDUSTRIAL AND HOME ENERGY NEEDS, WHILE SIMULTANEOUSLY REDUCING POLLUTION, REBUILDING THE SOIL AND CLEANING THE ATMOSPHERE ALL AT THE SAME TIME, AND THAT SUBSTANCE IS THE SAME ONE THAT DID IT ALL BEFORE...
HEMP/CANNABIS/MARIJUANA!"

JACK HEREA

Climatologists can now agree over consistent evidence that approximately 66% of the green house gases that cause global warming are man made. The freak storms, rising sea levels the displacement of millions of humans world wide will be the symptoms of what we as a civilization have created. The harm we have placed ourselves and our children is a byproduct of our current industrial practices; a monster of outdated technology, ignorance and greed. It's scary to think that we might have traded in our future in order to continue with "business as usual". It can be discouraging to consistently hear about the vast array of environmental problems that we face, without ever being offered any easily accessible solutions. Where can we find alternatives to burning fossil fuels, deforestation and using fertilizers? How can we possibly sustain our population any other way?

Measures to control green house gas emissions have already begun with the Kyoto protocol (a treaty formed by the United Nations Framework Convention on Climate Change, to encourage countries all over the world to reduce their emissions of carbon dioxide and five other green house gases, or engage in emissions trading if they maintain or increase these emissions) which was signed by 163 countries, with the exception of the United States (the world's largest polluter) and Australia. With the U.S. declining from this treaty, we are still on the path to environmental disaster. U.S. President George W. Bush stated that it would have been "impossible to meet the Kyoto requirements without compromising the U.S. economy." This may come as a surprise, but Bush is, in fact, wrong! There is a solution! The solution is,,,HEMP!!!

Hemp is one of the most easily grown and versatile plants known to man! It has few insect enemies (especially in the U.S and Canada), it responds to most types of soil, has a huge potential to be grown organically and free of genetic modifications (since it already has all of the perfect planting and growing characteristics), and it grows incredibly fast (one acre of hemp can grow more than four times as much material as an acre of trees). Hemp is also bio diversity friendly, it is animal and especially bird friendly. Hemp can actually withstand UV radiation; it absorbs UV light while resisting damage to itself and providing protection for everything else. Hemp is risk free, pollution free, it does not cause acid rain and it can reduce air born pollution by up to 80%. Hemp biomass, which is the fuel derivative of hemp can be grown and produced at a fraction of the cost of fossil fuel. One acre of hemp equals 1000 gallons of methane! While Biomass production still produces green house gases, the excess carbon dioxide will be used up by the process of growing the hemp. It seems like common sense to grow our fuel rather than extracting it (by any means possible). It would create significant independence within countries that are self sustained by hemp farms. Would it be too far fetched to say that Hemp could spawn peace? (Or does one have to be a pot smoking hippy to speculate such possibilities?)

The reality is that Hemp as a versatile textile for everything from plastic products, to building materials (yes, you can make a strong beam out of hemp) to the perfect fuel. It is the only known plant that can replace every industry polluter in the world and stop global warming!

So what can you do? First, educate yourself and those around you (the library and the internet are at our fingertips!). Second, contact your MP with the info have found and urge them to look at hemp as serious solution to global warming. Third, start a petition and create informative leaflets for the public. Fourth, make consumer choices that will announce your interest in hemp (in the same tone, avoid products that contribute to global warming). If you are interested in starting your own business, consider making it a hemp based product.

We can no longer ignore the warning signs, global warming is a real threat. We need to stop ignoring the solutions as well, and hemp is the solution. Remember, you don't have to be a hippy to grow hemp!

it's funny how much merit and respect we attach to a person based on their age - as if age means anything at all. if age were the main factor of intellect and experience then how is it that people the same age can vary so greatly, and how is it that some mature more than others, and others still never mature at all?

it's very simple, if you're willing to accept the answer (as is the case with most seemingly intricate matters) it is clear evidence of the soul, that exists above and beyond the physical body. it has lived before our current namesake, and it will live long after, but it is the soul itself which carries the true age of a person. youth with eyes of an elder, and elders with a glimmer of youth. now factor that into this whole cycle of power our society exists in today and you'll begin to understand the sense of imbalance those with true age actually feel.

We all carry with us the wisdom of our true age, it is merely a matter of awakening it.

These are "age-old" ideas that can only be reworded and rephrased, never rewritten.

I spend alot of time using Transit, I'm not complaining, I'm just saying. Anyways, if you can find a quiet seat for your journey it can be an excellent opportunity for personal reflection - and mental organization, if you will - because unless it's your first time on the bus, you've seen it all before. You just want to get where you're going, just like the last time you took the bus.

There's nothing new to experience.

It is a repeat moment, a state of neutral experience. Nobody wants to be caught within a state of neutral experience, right? But then I look around me, and nearly everyone has an mp3 player umbilically attached to their skulls, lost in a song they've heard 100 times. It makes me realize that some people actually would rather dwell in a state of neutrality rather than reflect upon reality, and this ever-growing imbalance troubles me.

JOHN TITON

Let someone else climb the corporate ladder.

.... YOURS HAS 23 STEPS.

Dear Right Honourable Steve Harper,

Right Honourable Mr. Harper, my name is Sheldon Birnie and I am writing to you today because I have a question:

Mr Harper, are you a robot?

Hear me out, please. I mean no disrespect. It's only that, to me, it looks like you are being set up hard for a big fall in about 2 years time. Those damn wily Liberals have done this over and over again throughout our (Canadian) history and I wouldn't want to see this happen to a well-intentioned western boy (provided you're not a robot). I've noticed, Mr. Harper, that every time a non-Liberal government takes over for a "failed" Liberal one, they go to town as fast as they can to dismantle as much of what the Liberals "pushed through" government (usually "hot topic" issues which were only half-heartedly approved to demonstrate the "Liberal views" of the right-wing Liberal party, as the Liberals know they will be repealed soon enough by cut throat Conservative capitalist zealots) before they are shut down by public outcry, restoring the Liberals to an overwhelming and long lived monopoly over the house of commons which seems to last a minimum of three brutally long, soul sucking terms. Look what they did to Mulroney, Mr. Harper. You don't want to be the next National Failure, do you?

Why, Mr. Harper, would any clear thinking individual with a good head for business, politics, and all around common sense, willing set themselves up for such a fall? Certainly, Mr. Harper, you see my point? I imagine you're a level headed individual, and this is why I can see no logic in your drive for Conservative Supremacy given the history of Canadian politics.

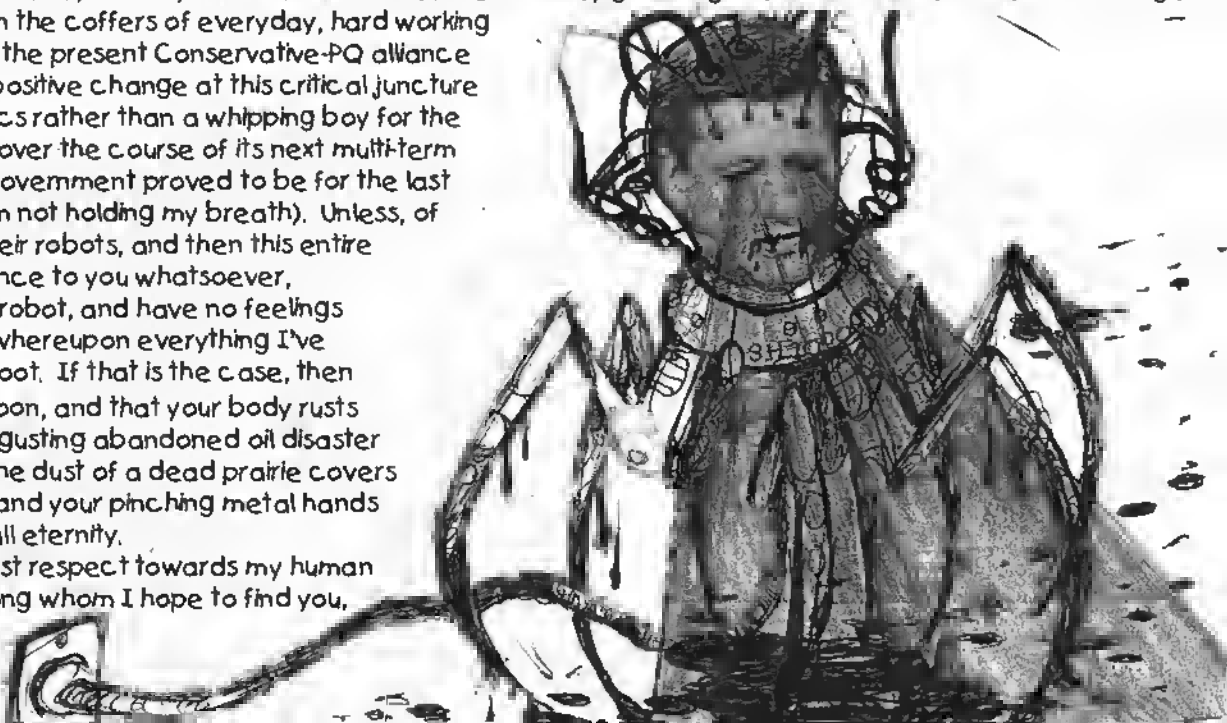

Unless, of course, you are a robot. A Liberal robot programmed and sent to destroy the "credibility" of the Conservative party among the voting public and the viability of said party to form any sort of reasonably competent and trustworthy opposition party for at least another 20 years, in order ensure continued Liberal monopolization of Canadian Federal politics. Please, Steve, say it ain't so. If you are truly a well-intentioned Canadian boy, who could, somehow, be (according to a good friend of mine, one Matt Zimmer of Westbank, BC) "the greatest Canadian since Wayne Gretzky", then please, I implore you, explain to me, and anyone else who might be as puzzled as I am (and I may be the only one, though I highly doubt it) as to why you would play into such a cheap trick, a trick any decent human being wouldn't pull on his annoying little brother in even the most intense of Monopoly rounds. A dirty, foul, trick. A Liberal maneuver if ever there was one. You must know they will get you in the end, Steve. The zealotry of the well-intentioned (if completely insane, Western-movie wannabes posing as oil-magnates posing as politicians who make up the) men and women of the Conservative party will overstep their boundaries in the quest towards Unbridled Capitalism in the Great White North and the anger the of the easily duped voting public will eventually rain down upon them (and you in particular) like something out of your Bible, and once again, the Liberal Leeching Machine will have its mandibles sunk deep into the heart of the Canadian tax payer, and its fat, bloated ass on the seat of power. And neither of us want this, now, do we?

Mr. Harper, again, I implore you not to take this letter as disrespect towards your person. While I am not an admirer of you or your politics, I do respect you as a (potential) human being and wish no ill will upon you (personally), much less the impending public thrashing I envision your character sustaining before the year 2008 hits us, and, undoubtedly our Economy, like a load of bricks off the top of a very tall building at the heart of the Toronto Stock Exchange. And so Mr. Prime Minister (enjoy it while it lasts!), I want to say that I hope you are not a robot, but a well intentioned, tho misguided, man, and I hope that, as a human, and not a Liberal robot, you will reconsider your present situation as leader of this country of ours and look deep within yourself before making any of these insane economic and social "revampings" you crazy Conservatives have planned for the fabric of our nation. Perhaps you will realize they are insane and will do no good for Canada, but only for a handful of heartless money grubbing sneaks who have somehow managed to get their filthy hands on the coffers of everyday, hard working Canadians, and we'll see the present Conservative-PQ alliance develop into a force for positive change at this critical juncture in Canadian federal politics rather than a whipping boy for the next Liberal government over the course of its next multi-term tenure, as the Mulroney government proved to be for the last one (though I, for one, am not holding my breath). Unless, of course, you are one of their robots, and then this entire letter will be of no relevance to you whatsoever, because you would be a robot, and have no feelings or thoughts of your own, whereupon everything I've written about become moot. If that is the case, then I hope you short-circuit soon, and that your body rusts and corrodes in some disgusting abandoned oil disaster in northern Alberta until the dust of a dead prairie covers what's left of your gears and your pinching metal hands from the light of day for all eternity.

Yours truly, and with utmost respect towards my human brothers and sisters, among whom I hope to find you,

Sheldon Birnie

anomie (anomy)

Lack of moral consensus and normative controls in society, resulting from a breakdown of traditional authority; a central concept in sociology. A French term derived from the Greek for "lawlessness," anomie was introduced into social science by Émile Durkheim, who perceived a disintegration of moral controls in societies undergoing major transitions. In his classic study Suicide (1897), Durkheim posulated that in the process of industrialization in Europe, moral controls had been outpaced by the revolution in social and family relationships. In consequence, social organization weakened and individuals no longer felt bound by traditional constraints. This disintegration

TIPS FOR POSTERS & STENCILS

Use the right equipment.

For stencils: Find a board that is thin enough to cut, but thick enough to survive many coats of paint. Light cardboard works well. Cut designs with a sharp x-acto knife and a cutting pad.

For posters: Get ready-made wall paper paste from a hardware store or mix your own: 1 cup flour to 1 1/2 cups of water, bring to a boil, stir, and cook on a low heat until you get a clear, thick paste (takes about 30 minutes). Condensed milk also acts like a super glue. Add it to your paste or use it straight. On the street cover your target with paste, slap the paper on top, and smooth it out. More paste over the paper can help it stick, but it can also look messy when dry. Exposed corners or ripples make it easy to tear down.

Respect other people's work. Street artists are all in the same boat so don't cover graffiti or posters if you don't have to.

Pick your targets. Avoid small, independent businesses or individual property (luxury lofts and rich white yuppies are an exception). Make your mark with the real criminals - corporate and state property.

Think exposure. City cleaning crews pay attention to walls, poles, and boxes that can be painted easily. Sidewalk stencils are difficult to clean, and they give you great exposure to loot traffic.

Dress the part. Wear clothes to match your location - sloppy clothing, business suits, etc. Cops are less likely to harass you if they think you're a yuppie.

Camouflage your work. Chicken wire folded in a newspaper works well for stencils. The paper hides the stencil, and the wire keeps the paper from sticking to the wall. Plastic water bottles hide wheat paste well, but they clog easily. You can squirt paste onto a rag or brush, and then cover your target. A small bucket stuffed in a bag works well, too.

Watch your trail. If you don't want to be followed, zig-zag through the streets. It's easy to track fresh paint or wheat paste, if you're moving in a straight line.

Plan your exit. Bikes are a great way to cover lots of ground and make a quick getaway. But if you get busted on a bike, cops may impound your wheels. If you lock up your bike and get busted, your wheels may be gone by the time you get back. Think ahead.

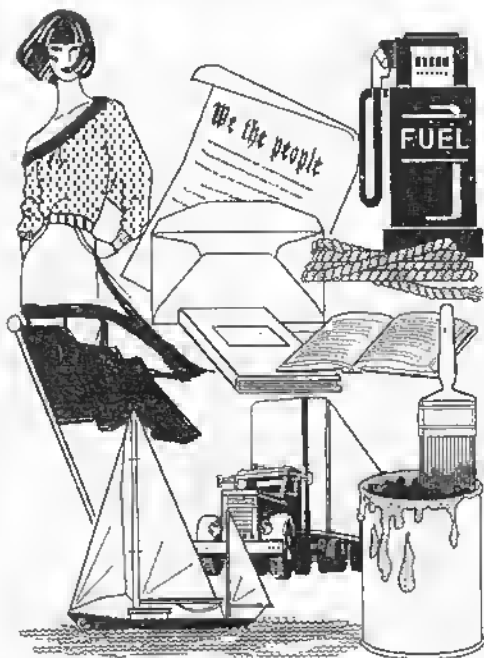

Have fun.

THE MANY USES OF HEMP

The World's Most Valuable & Versatile Natural Resource

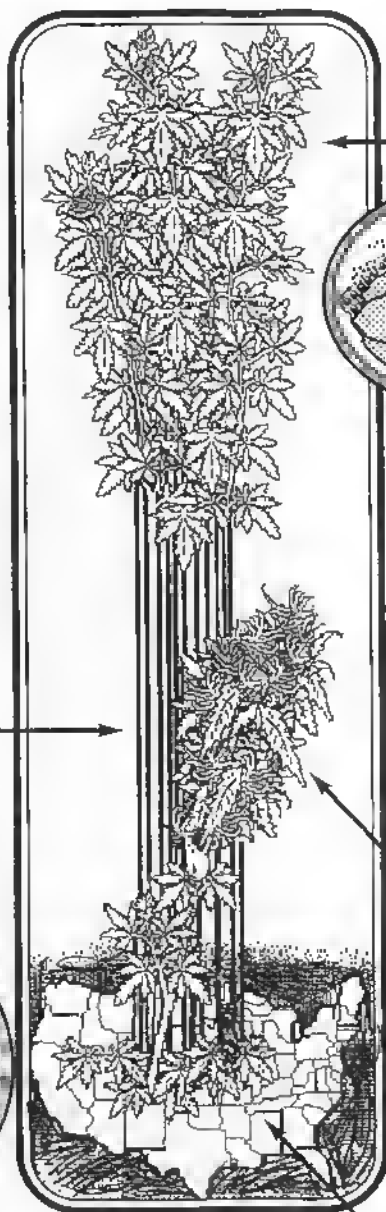

STALK FOR FABRIC, FUEL, PAPER & COMMERCIAL USE. Hemp is dried and broken down into two parts: threadlike fibers and bits of "hurd," or pulp. Each of these products has its own distinct applications:

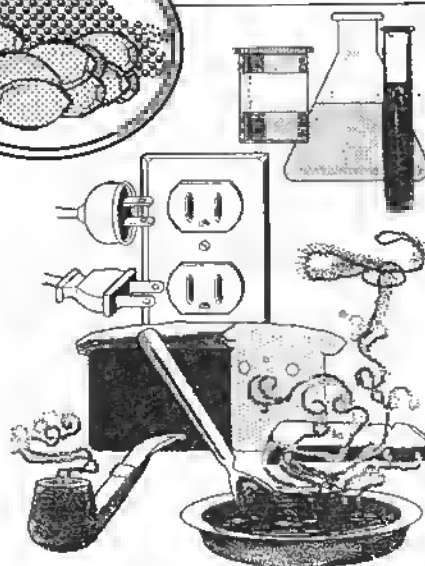

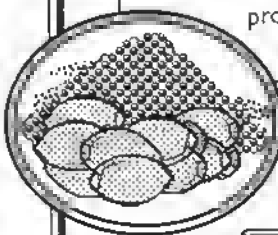

THE LONG BARK FIBER is cleaned and spun into threads and yarn for rope or knit or woven into a variety of durable, high-quality textiles for clothing, canvas and fabrics of many types and textures.

THE INNER CORE that remains is called hemp hurds, with cellulose for tree-free, dioxin-free paper; non-toxic paints and sealants; industrial fabrication materials; construction materials; hemi-cellulose for plastic, and much more! Hemp is the best sustainable source of plant pulp for biomass fuel to make charcoal, gas, methanol, gasoline or even produce electricity.

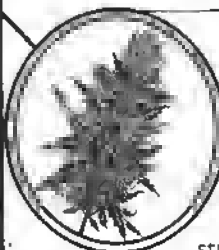

SEEDS FOR OIL & FOOD:

hempseeds produce oil for cooking, lubrication, fuel, etc. The seed is a cholesterol-lowering source of full protein. Leaves and flowers are also edible.

FOLIAGE FOR MEDICINE, FOOD & RELAXATION.

Cannabis has important medical value for easing pain, relieving stress and treating illnesses from glaucoma to cancer to nausea to AIDS and beyond. Hemp flowers and leaves are smoked or eaten for many therapeutic, religious and relaxational purposes.

ROOTED IN NATURE:

Even the hemp roots play an important role: they anchor and aerate the soil to control erosion and mudslides. Hemp can save family farms, create jobs, reduce acid rain and chemical pollution, and reverse the Greenhouse effect.

IF YOU WANT TO GO TO HEAVEN,
YOU HAVE TO OPEN A DOOR, TO GET IN.
RIGHT NOW JESUS IS THE ONLY ONE,
HE HAS THE KEY, FOR THAT DOOR.
JESUS WORKS FOR THE JEWISH CHRISTIAN GOD.

HEAVEN IS A VERY VERY SMALL PLACE,
NOT BIG ENOUGH FOR EVERYBODY.
VERY FEW PEOPLE WILL BE ALLOWED TO GO IN.

NOWADAYS LOTS OF PEOPLE BUY LOTTERY TICKETS EVERYDAY,
BUT NOT TOO MANY ARE WINNERS.
RIGHT NOW LOTS OF CHRISTIANS GOT A TICKET TO HEAVEN, HOWEVER NOT TOO MANY ARE WINNING TICKETS.

RIGHTNOW THERE IS A VERY VERY, LONG LINEUP,
STANDING OUTSIDE THAT DOOR.
POPE JOHN PAUL IS STANDING AT THE END OF LINE.
AT THE OPPOSITE END, THERE ARE MANY OTHER DOORS,
ONE OF THEM, IS THE GATEWAY TO HELL.

MOST OF THOSE DOORS ARE ONLY ONEWAY DOORS, GOES ONLY ONE WAY.
ONCE YOU GO IN, NO ONE IS ALLOW TO COME OUT.
RIGHTNOW THERE IS ONE PERSON, (GOLDEN LOTUS)
WHO HAS THE KEY TO ONE OF THOSE DOORS.
HIS JOB IS TO NOT LET ANYTHING,
(INCLUDING ALL THE ANCIENT DEMONS),
COME OUT FROM THAT DOOR.

THAT PERSON DOES NOT WORK FOR THE JEWISH GOD.
HE ALSO DOES NOT WORK FOR SATAN, EITHER.
HE WORKS FOR OTHER GODS

ACCORDING TO THE JEWISH BIBLE, THERE IS ONLY ONE GOD.
ACCORDING TO THE MUSLIM BIBLE (KORAN), THERE IS ONLY ONE GOD.

THEY BOTH ARE LIES, THERE IS MORE THAN ONE GOD OUT THERE.
THE CHRISTIAN JEWISH BIBLE IS WRITTEN BY ROMANS,
IT IS NOT THE EXACT WORDS OF GOD.
IT ONLY TELL PART (ONE SIDE) OF THE STORY,
IT DID NOT TELL YOU, THE COMPLETE (& THE OTHER SIDE) OF THE STORY.
IT IS INTENDED TO FOOL, BRAINWASH PEOPLE.

BESIDE HEAVEN & HELL, YOU HAVE MANY OTHER CHOICES.
THERE ARE MORE THAN 2 DOORS OUT THERE.

DO NOT LET THE JEWISH CHRISTIAN GOD, OR SATAN, TO BOSS YOU AROUND.
